Madison-Davis Professional Services, LLC Sponsors Milton Zipper Financial Executive of the Year Award

Tarrytown, NY, May 23, 2005 – Madison-Davis Professional Services, LLC of Tarrytown, NY, a global provider of project management resources, consulting services, executive recruitment and staffing solutions, was a corporate sponsor of the The Institute of Management Accountants' (IMA) 2005 Milton Zipper Financial Executive of the Year Award Dinner on May 10th, honoring Joseph Sawicki, Jr., Suffolk County Comptroller. IMA created the Award in 1995 to recognize the outstanding performance, accomplishments and contributions of financial executives.

Madison-Davis President and CEO Peter Fiorillo stated, "Madison-Davis is proud to participate in this important event honoring Mr. Sawicki, whose long-time efforts to ensure excellence in Long Island commerce are to be applauded. We appreciate his commitment to being the County's fiscal watchdog, a demanding role he assumed long before his appointment as Comptroller in 2002. His knowledge and experience in private industry as well as government serve to reinforce his effectiveness and determination to continue to achieve his goals for the office."

Mr. Fiorillo added, "We were also pleased the Awards dinner keynote speaker was Paul A. Sharman, IMA president and CEO. Since the early 1980s, the principals of Madison-Davis have been involved with the IMA. The IMA has always provided recognition and support for financial executives working inside of corporations, municipalities and other organizations. Madison-Davis sponsored this award because it is extremely important in today's financial climate to publicly recognize those financial executives who are demonstrating the leadership and proper fiscal responsibility in the financial arm of their organizations."
